THE VAMPIRE

Enric Lluch & Fernando Falcone

Ladislaus had been meaning
to go to the dentist's
for a long time.
One night he got up with the idea of going.
He turned into a bat,
and flew off to the
main square.

He went to the police station and asked
where the dentist's was.

"I want to sharpen my fangs," he explained.

But the policeman thought he was joking.

“It’s true – look...” said
Ladislaus baring his teeth.
The policeman told him to
buzz off.
“Halloween is still a long
way off!”
