THE ZOMBIE

Enric Lluch & Oriol Hernández

The wizard needed a first class zombie.

So he chose a grave, poured a magic potion over it, and waited... But the zombie didn't come out on his own, and the wizard had to dig him up!

The lazy zombie didn't move an inch.
"I don't think I made a good choice," muttered the wizard.

"Let me sleep a little longer..."
begged the zombie.

Finally, the zombie got up out of the grave and the wizard had to show him what to do.

“Stretch your arms out, for heaven’s sake, and roll your eyes up!”
