THE MUMMY

Enric Lluch & Pablo Tambuscio

The mummy heard they were going to close down the museum! “Oh my!” he exclaimed. “What will become of us?” He ran off to look for his friend the stuffed lion.

When the lion saw how upset his friend was, he asked him what was wrong.

“Better watch out! They want to close the museum!” cried the mummy.

A few minutes later, everyone had heard the news. The snake escaped through the window. The elephant burst out crying. The rhinoceros knocked down a wall with its head. The zebra, the crocodile and the monkey all started making wild noises.
