THE MONSTER IN THE WARDROBE

Enric Lluch & Pablo Zamboni

Mr and Mrs Monster checked to make sure their son was comfy inside his soap bubble.

“When you find a wardrobe to live in, pop the bubble.”

Mrs Monster was gnawing absent-mindedly on a shoelace.

“Do you think he’ll find a good wardrobe?” she asked, teary-eyed.

“Of course, dear,” answered her husband.

The bubble stopped at a wardrobe with six doors.

“This one’s taken!” cried a monster as he chewed on some buttons.

The monster blew and the bubble floated away.
